

NEWARK TO ENTERTAIN PHYSICIANS

Eighth District, Ohio Medical Association Here in 1914

DR. STEDEN IS HONORED

Newark Physician Elected President of Association—Dr. Davis Reads Important Paper at Lancaster Meeting.

Dr. J. P. H. Stedem was chosen president of the Eighth district of the Ohio Medical Association at the election of officers marking the closing session of the annual meeting held in Lancaster, Tuesday. Newark was chosen as the meeting place of the district association for next year. Dr. J. R. McDowell of Zanesville was elected secretary-treasurer.

Dr. H. J. Davis of Newark read an interesting paper on "Diverticulitis," which brought out some helpful discussion. Several other meritorious papers were read.

Newark physicians who attended the meeting were: Dr. J. A. Mitchell, Dr. J. P. H. Stedem, Dr. H. J. Davis, Dr. J. T. Harbottle, Dr. W. E. Boyer, Dr. C. F. Legge, Dr. W. E. Wright, Dr. H. H. Fossle, Dr. C. J. Evans, Dr. H. E. Hunt, Dr. C. K. Essington and Dr. C. A. Hatch, and Dr. C. J. Lovell of Granville.

The meeting was pronounced one of the best ever held, and was honored with the presence of D. G. A. Fackler of Cincinnati, president of the state association.

The Newark delegation and the Zanesville delegation had a close run for first place in numbers in attendance. Zanesville had two more delegates present than Newark.

The eighth district comprises the counties of Licking, Fairfield, Muskingum, Perry, Athens, Washington, Morgan, Noble and Guernsey.

SANDLES WILL SAVE TURTLES

Columbus, Oct. 29.—The state agricultural commission today received and discussed Governor Cox's recommendation issued yesterday concerning sheep raising for mutton production by cross breeding. The commission probably will conduct an investigation of the crossbreeding plan suggested by the governor and later take definite steps toward working out the plan.

A campaign against pollution of streams will be started soon under the direction of the agricultural commission and the fish and game warden's department, according to a decision of the commission today.

"Turtle soup is getting too high," said President Sandles of the commission commenting on the plan. "All the turtles and thousands of fish are being killed by poisonous products being poured into the streams by manufacturing plants in the state. There is no use in the state's spending money to maintain fish hatcheries by which streams are restocked if the streams are to be made poisonous."

Deputy fish and game wardens probably will be notified soon to report cases of stream pollution and management of manufacturing plants will be prosecuted.

STRIKERS ATTACK MINE.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 29.—The destruction of the tippie and office of the Southwestern Mine near Angilar by fire and an attack by strikers on the mine and the caps of Berwind and Tabasco is the record of damage due to the coal strike today. Arms and ammunition have disappeared from the Ludlow tent colony and hundreds of the strikers have scattered to neighboring tent colonies on the arrival of the militia at Trinidad and Walsenberg. Adjutant General John Chase stated that 24 hours were given the strikers in which to lay down their arms.

Municipal Ballot Will Have Four Tickets Instead of Three; Citizen's Ticket to Be Added

Four tickets instead of three will grace the municipal ballot at the coming election, according to a decision of Secretary of State Graves, received Wednesday by Clerk Michael Sachs of the county board of elections. The decision provides that the names of J. F. Swisher and J. H. Miller, candidates for councilman-at-large, nominated by the Church Brotherhood, must appear on the Citizens ticket and not on the Independent ticket as had been supposed. This makes four tickets, the Democratic, Republican, Independent and Citizens.

Board of Trade Engages a Business Manager In Mr. W. C. Wakefield

At the last meeting of the directors of the Newark Board of Trade, Mr. W. C. Wakefield was engaged as business manager. After a canvass of the situation by Mr. Wakefield, who has been in the city more or less during the last few weeks, he appeared before the directors and quite frankly told them of his ideas regarding the situation and the course to be pursued in establishing the board on a business basis. Mr. Wakefield, who has had several years experience in the commercial field in organizing, financing and managing commercial trade bodies, comes directly from Lancaster where he recently organized the Chamber of Commerce and is highly recommended as a live, energetic and capable manager of such institutions.

The board has gone carefully into the matter and it is confidently expected that the plans outlined by the new manager will prove successful in placing the organization on a basis that will serve to keep it in the front ranks of progressive, sane and sensible commercial bodies.

In an interview Mr. Wakefield said, "Of all my experience I have never encountered an opportunity which on the surface, or even on closer examination seemed more promising. Conditions here are similar to other places but several matters of vital importance have been undeveloped through lack of sufficient experience in this work. Trade organizations are business institutions. They are either the most influential or the least in the community and if a trade body cannot hold the highest position it will not long hold any. The average trade body allows its organization to lose dignity through a too free acceptance of members, who do not and will not pay dues thereby permitting a certain contempt to creep in the public mind that its financial policy is lax and unbusinesslike. The substantial trade body is the one that conducts its affairs on a sane basis, as the most successful business man. Its position must be respected, its business methods must command the confidence of the community and its policy be in keeping with its business methods. The business of a trade body is TRADE, not morals, politics, legislation, reform, etc., but pure, and unadulterated TRADE, and when a trade body departs its legitimate end it writes its own obituary. It is a body composed of the intelligent, thinking, business like citizenship and not a kindergarten for personal ends. It should hold to its obligations as a private individual and should see to it that obligations to it are equally regarded. It need not have a large, unwieldy organization but it must have a compact working body, one that is managed on modern principles of aggressive sagacity and it is equally the servant of the poor and the rich of the laborer and the capitalist, of the vested interests and the transitory population. Its object is to BUILD UP THE CITY, to deal with results not causes and to shape the policy of the COMMERCIAL TREND of the community with an eye single to its own permanent usefulness and a greater usefulness to the city. Its management should be sufficiently elastic to allow of free movement and permit the prompt removal of useless and inactive members. It should weld the new life of succeeding officials with the old life of experienced officers. It should keep in the middle of the road, respect the rights of every citizen, humble or great in the broad community interest that it represents."

From time to time it is the intention of the new manager to carry news items and arguments in the press for the purpose of acquainting the average citizen with the work and of interesting all classes with the idea of bringing to every citizen the opportunity of knowing what a Trade body is and what this one in particular is intended to serve.

Mr. Wakefield will assume office on November 1st and can be found at the Board of Trade office, and in fact warmly invites all interested in seeing the Newark Board of Trade a credit to the town to call on him at the offices of the Board in the Newark Trust building.

CHARGE AGAINST MRS. RAND WILL NOT BE PUSHED

Dublin, Oct. 29.—The dropping of the prosecution of Mrs. Lucille Rand, daughter of former Governor Henry T. Gage of California, and of Mrs. Dora Montefier, a London philanthropist was perpetually decided on today when the cases against them on charges of kidnapping came up before the police magistrate here.

The two women had taken a leading part in arranging for the transfer to England of children of striking Irish transport workers. The children were to be cared for in England during the continuance of the strike. These efforts were opposed by the Catholic clergy, who objected to the children being sent to protestant homes.

At the hearing today the attorney for the defendants explained that the women's action were misunderstood. There was, he said, a touch of humor in charging them with kidnapping when they were really on an errand of mercy. They had not committed any crime, he declared, but perhaps had acted indiscreetly.

54 DROWNED IN SALVADOR STORM

San Salvador, Oct. 29.—Fifty-four deaths from drowning were reported here today from districts of the republic of Salvador as a sequel to a rainfall of unprecedented severity, lasting throughout Monday and Tuesday. Complete reports it is believed, will greatly augment the list of dead. The village of Vera Paz, near San Vincente is reported destroyed with all its inhabitants.

Four were drowned in this city. The rainfall here was about ten inches.

PLANS TO RELIEVE TENSION

In Mexican Situation Are Being Made By State Department

U. S. WILL SET EXAMPLE

To Be Followed By Other Nations in Adopting Policy Towards Mexico—Free Election Is Urged.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Secretary Bryan said today that a formal note had been sent to all the European governments asking them to suspend the formulation of a policy toward Mexico until the United States had defined its attitude. While England, France and Germany, he said, had already been heard from, it is expected the other governments will follow the three great powers in awaiting the decision of the United States as to the next step in bringing peace in Mexico.

President Wilson had an early conference with Secretary Bryan today and the secretary stated afterward that they were at work on the next step in the policy that will be pursued. It is expected that the United States will first make formal demand for the elimination of Huerta and the conduct of fair and free elections, possibly with some safeguards to systematize the election machinery.

There was absolutely no comment forthcoming, however, from executive quarters as to just what was intended by the United States but it was generally agreed in official circles that some action looking toward a solution of the problem would be in line with the expectations of the powers. Steps to secure a new election would involve negotiations with the Constitutionalists and there is a confidence among administration officials that if guarantees for a free campaign can be arranged through the establishment of a provisional authority at Mexico City acceptable to the Constitutionalists, the latter are likely to fall in line.

Secretary Bryan said that the state department had not yet decided what disposition would be made of General Felix Diaz, a refugee aboard the battleship Louisiana. The sailing today of four American battleships from Hampton Roads to relieve those at Vera Cruz marks the first step on the part of the United States toward complying with the recent declaration of Huerta that foreign ships had been too long in Mexican waters.

Only meagre reports have reached the state department of the recent elections. Dispatches reported that Monterey was still in the hands of federalists after fighting in which no Americans were injured. Small groups of federalists arriving at Mazatlan reported disastrous defeat after four days' fighting about 10 miles from the city.

The Ward liner Morro Castle, with Mrs. John Lind and 10 refugees aboard, is due in New York tomorrow from Vera Cruz.

A laconic message from Rear Admiral Fletcher today said that General Felix Diaz and his party were aboard the battleship Louisiana and that all was quiet.

NO PROTEST YET.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 29.—No advice as to what is to be done with Felix Diaz and his fellow refugees on board the United States battleship Louisiana had come from Washington up to a late hour this morning to John Lind, Consul Canada, or Rear Admiral Fletcher. The fugitives expressed some anxiety as to their eventual disposition.

No sign of protest against the granting of an asylum to the refugees on board an American warship has been made by the Mexican authorities.

MINISTERS RESIGN.

Washington, Oct. 29.—A private cablegram received here today from Miguel Covarrubias, Mexico's minister to Russia, announces that diplomatic resignation. Covarrubias who has been called Mexico's foremost diplomat, was formerly minister to London and was slated for transfer to the United States before the developments of Mexican politics resulted in his transfer from London to St. Petersburg. His friends here say his resignation was voluntary and that he is out of sympathy with the Huerta regime.

COMMENT OF PRESS.

Mexico City, Oct. 29.—"Each hour brings news of fresh triumphs for the Huerta-Blanquet ticket in the Mexican states," says "Elidiario," the government organ, in an editorial today. "These votes have a double significance—sanction of the attitude of our president and disavowal of the wicked, unfounded approval we might almost say, and insolent meddling of a foreign power in our domestic affairs."

"The attitude of the president of the United States in upholding the electoral tickets of those who favor the rebels in the north of Mexico and opposing those of the supporters of legality, order and national dignity, has assured the continuation of Provisional President Huerta in power. Moreover, it has gathered about Huerta all those that are honorable and worthy in the country and consecrated him in the present difficult circumstances as the only possible president of the Mexican republic."

El Independiente says: "The rebels of Vera Cruz and the hero Ciudadela (Felix Diaz) declares himself vanquished. Under the wing of John Lind and pasted like scum to Consul William Canada, he has showed himself in moments of imaginary danger a military man full of terror and entirely devoid of honor."

SECRETARY GRAVES IS SUSTAINED BY THE SUPREME COURT

Equity Association Is Refused Writ of Mandamus Ordering Referendum of Warnes and Kilpatrick Laws

BITTER FIGHT ENDS WITH VICTORY FOR GRAVES

Decision Marks Conclusion of a Successful Fight by State Administration to Keep the Referendum Laws Free From the Taint of Fraud—Petitions Furnished by Ohio Equity Association Contained Names of Dead Men and Voters Whose Street Addresses Were Fictitious.

Columbus, Oct. 29.—The Supreme court this morning sustained Secretary of State Graves in his action in ruling out petitions in Warnes and Kilpatrick laws, as filed with him by the Ohio Equity association and refused writs of mandamus compelling him to order the laws on the ballot, as asked by the Equity association in its suit.

Secretary Graves' ruling now will stand and there will be no referendum on the laws at the election next week. The Equity association had charged the secretary acted fraudulently in refusing to allow a referendum, and in refusing to receive additional signatures after the first petitions were thrown out. The Supreme court decided against the Equity association also in its first contention that the secretary of state did not have final jurisdiction in determining whether referendum or initiative petitions contained fraudulent signatures sufficient to make them void.

The decision today marks the end of a long fight, which started when the disclosures were first made that the petitions circulated under the direction of the Equity Association of Cleveland contained many fictitious names, written on the petitions by solicitors from directories, names of dead men, and many with false addresses.

Investigation of the petition signatures was started by the state on request of Governor Cox and a hearing held with Secretary Graves acting as a court. The Equity Association attorneys withdrew from this hearing after the second day, claiming Mr. Graves was acting without authority.

The Kilpatrick law contains provisions which will make the Smith one per cent law more elastic. The Warnes law creates county tax assessing boards appointed by the governor and working under direction of the state tax commission.

The supreme court judges sustaining Secretary of State Graves, stood 6 to 1. Judge Shauk dissenting from the majority.

Hearing of the petition of the Equity Association to mandamus Secretary of State Graves to consider additional petitions on the Green law is yet to be disposed of by the supreme court and Attorney General Hogan said today that he will ask the court to pass on this feature tomorrow. Mr. Graves threw out petitions on the Green law and then the Equity Association filed additional petitions which the secretary of state refused to consider. It is to compel him to consider these petitions that the mandamus is sought, the Equity Association contending that they are wholly regular and bonafide. Mr. Graves held that the time for filing petitions had passed when the last batch of petitions for a Green law referendum were filed.

Now that it is settled, that there will be no referendum on the two laws, Governor Cox will proceed to act under the Warnes law which provides for the appointment of tax commissioners in all counties, and it is expected that these appointments will be made within the coming month. There will be one commissioner in each county up to between 58,000 and 59,000 population and two in counties of greater population.

Secretary of State Graves was greatly pleased over the decision of the court.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR RALLY

Success of Democracy's big rally and mass meeting, scheduled for Thursday night, is now a foregone conclusion, declare leaders of the local organization. This became a certainty when it was learned Wednesday morning directly from Columbus that Hon. Timothy S. Hogan, Ohio's brilliant attorney general, had assured the local organization of his acceptance of the invitation to address the meeting.

The convention room of the court house has been selected as a suitable place to accommodate the crowd that is expected to turn out, and arrangements were completed Wednesday for engagement of a band to furnish music.

Chairman Ed M. Larason of the Democratic executive committee will announce the names of members of a reception committee, Thursday morning, which will escort the attorney general to Newark, where he will be entertained at dinner at Hotel Warden.

It is expected the attorney general will speak on the general subject of municipal government and law enforcement, touching on phases of the local situation as occasions arise.

As there may be other speakers on the program for brief talks, the program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Friends of Miss Ruth Wilson of South Fifth street, will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from an attack of diphtheria.

MINERS BLAME GUARDS FOR ALL THE DISORDERS

Denver, Colo., Oct. 29.—The first of the state troops ordered into the strike zone of the southern Colorado coal fields by Governor Ammons, arrived at Trinidad early today. Before nightfall it is expected the entire national guard of Colorado, consisting of more than a thousand men will be in camp near Trinidad ready to preserve order around the mines.

President John McLennan of the state federation of labor has issued a call for a mass meeting to protest against the presence of the militia, declaring all violence there was due to imported mine guards.

Early this morning wires between Trinidad and the mining camp were tapped by strikers who answered all telegraph and telephone calls. It was rumored at Trinidad that Hastings had been captured by the strikers, but the report could not be verified.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wisner Miller are in the city on a business and pleasure trip. They are stopping at the Warden Hotel and were formerly of Newark. Their residence now is Goshen, N. Y.

CHURCH COUNCIL OPPOSES COSTLY WAR EQUIPMENT

Kansas City, Oct. 29.—The National Council of Congregational churches today in a resolution appealed to President Wilson and members of Congress to call a halt in the "swelling expenditures for the paraphernalia of war."

The resolution however, was not adopted without opposition.

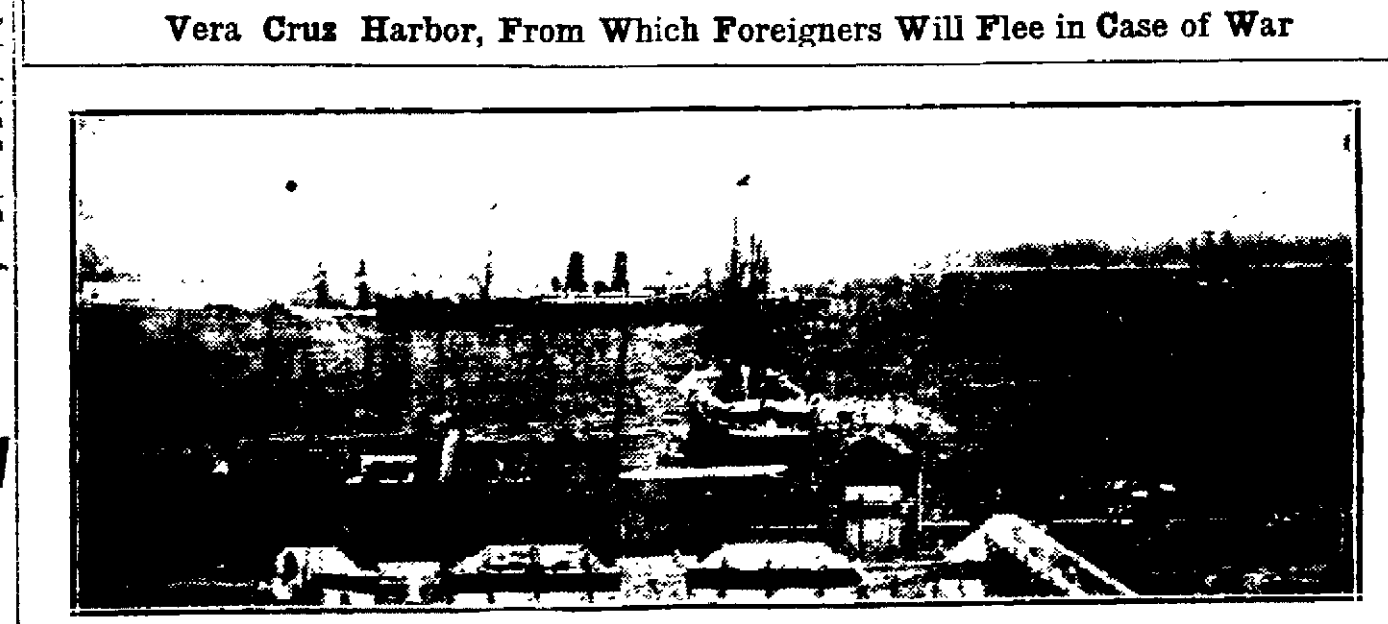

How to take care of the aged minister and his family, was the problem discussed by the Congregational Board of Ministerial Relief at its meeting here today in connection with the National Council of Congregational churches.

A committee that has been working on a pension plan since the last meeting in Boston three years ago, presented its report with a statement for granting old age pensions to ministers and taking care of families of ministers left dependent through death. The scheme provided that 25 per cent of the proposed benefits be secured from ministers enrolled in such a plan and 80 per cent be supplied by the churches. The foundation of a $25,000 endowment fund is urged.

NEW DIRECTORY OF NEWARK SHOWS POPULATION OF 27,000 WHICH IS VERY CONSERVATIVE

R. L. Polk & Company have just published their 1913 edition of the Newark city directory, copies of which are being distributed to subscribers. The book is the result of a careful canvass of the city by trained men.

Newark was credited by the U. S. Census with a population of 25,404 in 1910 within the confines of the city limits. The canvass for the directory shows an increase of 31 pages of name information over that of 1909-10. As each page indicates a gain of approximately 100 people an estimate of over 27,000 population would, according to the Polk Company, be regarded as conservative.

Vera Cruz Harbor, From Which Foreigners Will Flee in Case of War

If more serious trouble breaks out in Mexico—for instance, if the United States is compelled to intervene—most foreigners will probably flee the country to escape attack at the hands of the natives. Most of them, all of those within the territory surrounding Mexico City, will have to take the tortuous railroad which carries them to Vera Cruz. This photograph of the harbor was taken while the Ward line steamship Morro Castle, which was recently held for a few hours at the command of President Huerta and released when President Wilson protested, was there. She is shown far out ready to sail.

The trip down from the heights of Mexico City is on a railroad which winds about the mountains. In case of a great exodus it would be taxed to the utmost to carry a quarter of those who would seek passage. Which may be one reason why President Wilson long ago urged Americans to leave Mexico.

I desire to announce that I will again take up the practice of law. All business entrusted to me will receive careful and prompt attention.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passing or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

30 LABOR UNION OFFICIALS SEEK LIBERTY ON APPEAL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Another chapter in the story of the dynamite plots which extended throughout the country and culminated in the fatal explosion in Los Angeles, in 1910, was written today when the case was called before the United States circuit court of appeals.

Thirty of the 32 labor union officials, who were adjudged equally guilty with the McNamara brothers in promoting explosions ask that the present court set aside the verdicts rendered at Indianapolis last December and that they be given a new trial. Opposed to them, the federal government asks that the convicted men be sent back to prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to serve out their terms.

A sentence of seven years, the heaviest penalty of all, hangs over Frank M. Ryan, who is out on $70,000 bond pending this appeal. He was given the longest term, Judge A. B. Anderson at Indianapolis said, because he was president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers Union, out of whose funds the expenses of the dynamiters was paid.

Six years imprisonment is the penalty which Olaf A. Tvettnoe of San Francisco and each of six others ask to be set aside. Tvettnoe is a labor leader prominent on the Pacific Coast. He and the six other men were given the second longest terms because they were found guilty of voting to appropriate the union's funds for dynamiting John J. and James B. McNamara in explosions of the Pacific Coast.

The other prison terms, most of which have been suspended pending the appeal vary from four years to one year and one day.

Three days of the present court are to be devoted to the hearing of the appeals and the government's opposition. It is likely that when the argument is concluded Judges Kohlsaat, Baker and Seaman will take the petition under advisement and render their decision at some later date.

ARGUMENTS CLOSE IN EATON TRIAL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 29.—The closing argument in behalf of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, was made today by Wm. A. Morse. He allowed himself two hours for his effort to convince the jury that the evidence had shown that Rear Admiral Eaton himself had administered the poison which caused his death.

"There is no evidence," he said, "upon which you can find that this woman committed the act charged, or that she is so insane that she could commit crime and not be responsible for it."

He reviewed the incidents of Mrs. Eaton's life, as related by the defendant on the witness stand and declared that because she was the victim of circumstances, she was forced to face a murder charge.

Admiral Eaton was intemperate, possessed a mind that vile, but he had a polished exterior. Attorney Morse said. He took drugs to the end of his life. His wife had been faithful and the letters written by her and offered as exhibits had been prompted by pity for her miserable husband.

The prosecution, the attorney said, had been unable to find a motive for the crime and so had suggested several from which the jury might choose.

Would Divorce Woman From Newark

Coshocton, O., Oct. 29.—Charging that she has kept company with different men for the past year and that on August 15, 1913, she left him without cause, Allen Lockwood, well known resident of this city, filed suit for divorce from his wife, Lulu Lockwood, formerly of Newark, in probate court.

The plaintiff's petition cites that they were married at Newark, July 18, 1908, and that there have been no children born to the union. He charges her with gross neglect of duty alleging that on several occasions she has left the home and refused to do any housework. He says that she would stay away from home for several nights at a time.

The value of imports into China by parcel post during 1912 amounted to $1,992,334.

PREPARED FOR FATHER'S VISIT; HE DIED SUDDENLY

After receiving word that their father would visit them and making all preparations for his entertainment, word was received by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collins, of Grant street, this city of his death.

Mr. Collins had recently received a letter from his father who resides in Rome, Ga., that he would come to Newark and be their guest for several weeks. There was much rejoicing and preparations were made for his extended visit. On Tuesday, the day he was to arrive in Newark, a telegram was received announcing his death. The announcement came as a great shock as no previous word of his illness had been received. Mr. and Mrs. Collins left immediately for Rome, Ga.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR COLLECTION OF THE INCOME TAX

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 29.—There will be two more sets of regulations for collection of the new income tax, supplemental to those already promulgated and which related mainly to interest on bonds and other corporation obligations. The next set will cover collection of the tax at the source, under which corporations will deduct the tax due from their individual employees. The second set will contain general instructions for collections not already included in previous regulations.

More than three thousand applications have reached the treasury for the three hundred new positions created under the income tax law.

STUNT NIGHT WAS A SUCCESS

The gymnasium balcony and the side lines were crowded to capacity with boys and friends who enjoyed the demonstration of gym work at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night. The work consisted of calisthenics, drills, apparatus work, volley ball, basketball and shadowgraphs. The shadowgraphs were a source of much amusement. Here the giant in the boxing match with a pigmy and the extraction of teeth without pain caused all to enjoy a hearty laugh. Physical Director Roberts is planning for one "stunt night" each month. All young men are invited upon all of these occasions.

CHAS. G. GATES DIES OF APOPLEXY AT CODY, WYO.

Cody, Wyo., Oct. 29.—Charles G. Gates, son of the late John W. Gates, died in his private car here at 2 o'clock yesterday from a stroke of apoplexy. His body will be sent east.

Mr. Gates came west about a month ago on the advice of physicians who accompanied him. There was some improvement after his arrival here and a hunting trip was planned. It was successful from the sporting viewpoint, but the exertion seemed to leave Mr. Gates weak. Last night a change for the worse took place. Efforts to relieve Mr. Gates' sluggish heart were of no avail and he gradually weakened, finally failing to respond to strong stimulative treatment.

PRISON INSTEAD OF MORGUE GETS JOHN RIDENOUR

Tuesday evening about 7:30 o'clock the apparently lifeless body of a man was found along the railroad tracks near the municipal light plant. In the darkness of the early evening, the find was a ghastly one, for the left leg was gone, and it was thought the man had been struck by a passing train.

A hurry call was sent for the ambulance of Bazler & Bradley, which made a run to the scene carrying Chief of Police Sheridan and Captain Swank. As the officers stooped to lift the body it was found that the man was John Ridenour and that he was not dead, but in a stupor from the excessive use of intoxicants.

Ridenour has been the cause of much trouble to the public officials for the past few days. Complaints were received on Thursday by the police that he was going from house to house soliciting alms, and he was sent to the County Infirmary last Friday. He wandered away from there and Saturday was again about the city appealing for help to buy a wooden leg. He lost his leg about three months ago, when he was struck by a B. and O. train near Hanover.

Ridenour was placed in the ambulance, Tuesday evening, but his destination eventually, instead of being the morgue, was the city prison.

Woful Waste.

All summer long the land was dry, no moisture from the clouds deriving; we saw all vegetation die, and yet our whiskers kept on thriving. We didn't need a whiskers crop, we needed oats and wheat and barley, and yet their growing didn't stop, they wouldn't die, so help me Charlie! When Autumn comes the flowers fall, they perish when cold winds are blowing, the vines all wither on the wall—but human whiskers keep on growing. And what becomes of all the bases of whiskers grown on wafly faces—the one great crop that never fails, no odds what weather freaks it takes! The one great crop that laughs at drouth, defies the frost king and his legions, that prospers West, or North, or South, on desert sands, in Arctic regions? Do we conserve this great resource, this crop that we can count on always? No! Science plods along her course, and never makes a hair's breadth advance. She's making paper out of straw and nutmegs out of elm or willow. She's forming cigarettes of slaw, and drawing salt from ocean billow. She's looking ever for new ways to utilize the waste, and save it, but for your beard no market prays, when with a butcher knife you shave it. Our hand-saws glitter in the sun, we sadly sigh when'er we lose them, we're raising whiskers by the ton, and can't find a way to use them.

Hard Times Now Felt Are Only a Blessing In Disguise

By FREDERICK TOWNSEND MARTIN, New York Society Man

ON ALL SIDES ONE HEARS OF HARD TIMES. ALL THIS IS A GOOD THING, AND THE NATION IS FORTUNATE WHICH FROM TIME TO TIME LEARNS THE LESSONS OF ECONOMY, FROM THE BEST TEACHER OF ALL—NECESSITY.

In Germany one hears of retrenchment. England, too, is spending carefully, and the extravagant regime of King Edward has given way to sensible and cautious expenditures. America has similar reports. As the individual must learn SELF CONTROL AND THRIFT, so must the nation. Money was never given to a nation or a person for PURELY SELFISH ENJOYMENT, and in a mysterious way it seems to desert those possessors who regard it as a personal privilege. No worry is so difficult to bear as financial worry. It seems that every one has worries of this sort. Even the very rich have the same difficulties in keeping up their positions as the debt ridden clerks. By exercising judgment and resistance one can escape all these woes and LIVE WITHIN ONE'S INCOME, but people carelessly continue borrowing from Peter to pay Paul, and finally the day of reckoning comes. I never sympathize with those who reach the end of the financial tether unless these results have been caused by unpreventable misfortune. It is A HARD LESSON, BUT A GOOD ONE. NATIONS MUST AND DO LEARN IT THROUGH THAT BLESSING IN DISGUISE—HARD TIMES.

Coshocton Iron Works Didn't Close Because of Tariff Tinkering

A statement having been printed in a Coshocton newspaper that the Clow Iron Works plant in that city had closed indefinitely on account of "tariff tinkering," the President of the company, residing in Chicago, writes the following correction of the statement to the Coshocton Age:

A Letter From Mr. Clow—Tariff Tinkering.
Chicago, Oct. 21, 1918.

To the Editor of The Age:

Our attention has just been called to your issue of Oct. 21st with its heading:

"Tariff is blamed for closing Clow Plant indefinitely."

We come to you asking upon whose authority this statement of yours is based and we desire to say to you that tariff legislation has had absolutely nothing to do with the closing of our works. The pipe foundry only is closed because municipalities are unable to sell bonds that permits extensions and as a result, the product of the company that under normal conditions is distributed to municipalities, cannot be sold. We have accumulated as large a stock as our directors deemed it advisable for us to carry as there did not seem to be any prospect of a change in conditions, that would permit municipalities to buy pipe from us, there was no alternative but for us to close the foundry until conditions change.

In this connection please permit us to say that the state of Ohio in taxing municipal bonds issued by cities in the state has been one of the reasons why we are unable to sell our product. Our regret at closing the pipe foundry is all the greater when we had to do so in the face of the fact that we had the best organization and the best lot of men we have had in our employ since the works were started and their cost sheets for the month of September showed a production at a lower cost per ton than ever attained at any time since the works were built.

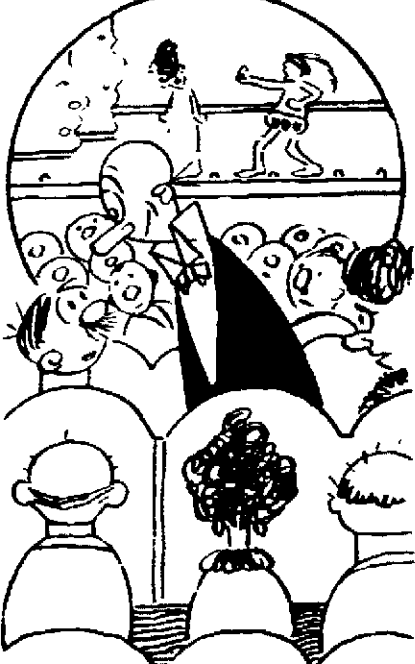

Thank you for correcting the statement attributing the closing to the tariff.

Very truly yours,
W. E. Clow,
President.

The above intelligent letter serves two important purposes. First, it contradicts the erroneous statement that this well known plant has closed business on account of the passage of the tariff bill. Second, it shows that the real reason why the plant was compelled to close its pipe foundry is because of the taxation of municipal bonds, which prevents cities from being able to issue and sell bonds to raise the money needed to buy the pipes which the plant makes.

This is certainly a forceful argument why voters should cast their ballots on Nov. 4 in favor of the constitutional amendment, exempting municipal bonds from taxation.

First Things

The first steam war vessel was launched at New York ninety-nine years ago today, Oct. 29, 1814. It was built by Robert Fulton, who had been appointed a government engineer, in the pay of the United States, for this purpose. The parent of all the dreadnaughts and super-dreadnaughts of the world's navies was called by her builder the Demologos, but the United States navy authorities christened her Fulton the First. She had a speed of two and a half miles an hour, and was considered a marvel, although in reality it was a heavy and unwieldy mass, and far from being a formidable engine of defense and offense. The war having terminated before the pioneer vessel of the world's steam navies could be given her baptism of fire, she was taken to the navy yard at Brooklyn, where she was used as a receiving ship until June 4, 1829, when she was accidentally blown up by a torpedo, also the invention of Fulton. It was not until 1846, long after Fulton's death, that the United States congress granted an appropriation of $76,300 to cover the inventor's claims for building the first steam war vessel and inventing floating steam batteries.

The Wilson Doctrine.

Perhaps it will not be necessary for President Wilson to issue any promised formal statement to make the attitude of his administration toward Latin America. On the 11th of March he said:

We can have no sympathy with those who seek to seize the power of government to advance their own personal interests and ambition. We are the friends of peace, but we know that there can be no lasting or stable peace in such circumstances.

Last Saturday, at Swathmore, Pa., speaking of the conquest of America for freedom and self-government, he said:

I would like to believe that all this hemisphere is devoted to the same sacred purpose, and that nowhere can any government endure which is stained by blood or supported by anything but the consent of the governed.

On Monday, in an address before the Southern Commercial Congress at Mobile, after repeating in substance the sentiments above expressed, he said of European interests in America:

You hear of concessions to foreign capital in Latin America, but you do not hear of concessions to foreign capital in the United States. States that are obliged to grant concessions are in the condition that foreign interests are apt to dominate their domestic affairs. It is a manuevering from which we deem it our duty to assist.

This is not the Monroe Doctrine. It is the Wilson Doctrine. It embodies an ideal upon which all Americans will agree. It was upon a commercialism which may be abandoned at home as well as abroad.

That Mayor Swartz's record for law enforcement and good government in our city is not publicly denied, no reason can be offered by the Republican candidate for mayor or his political friends other than a partisan reason for the spoils of office why a change should be made in our city government next Tuesday. A change for such a reason will not be to Newark's credit, neither at home nor abroad.

Economy, honesty and the preservation of law and order being the record of the present city administration, it would not only be a risk, but a mistake to make a change that would hand over the city offices to political opponents for the sole reason of giving them the spoils.

What possible advantage can it be to the credit of Newark if its voters should on next Tuesday repudiate the record of Mayor Swartz for law enforcement and risk electing a man in his place without a record merely for the spoils of office?

That Newark is today one of the best governed cities in the state, can not be denied by the political opponents of Mayor Swartz. Then why make a change when you vote next Tuesday? Why change a sure thing for a very doubtful uncertainty?

No denial of the superiority in the personnel of the Democratic candidates for city offices has been made in the campaign. In all municipal elections the better man should invariably be chosen.

The Human Procession

Admirers of Miss Rose Stahl—who belong to the well-known Legion family—are likely to rise en masse and proclaim the writer of these lines a direct descendant of Ananias when it is stated that the gifted actress will pass her thirty-eighth milestone today. It has been stated that figures are fabulous, but this does not always apply to feminine figures, and Miss Stahl is far from looking her age. Statistics prove, however, that Miss Stahl was born in Montreal on October 29, 1879. Like those other eminent Canadian actresses, Margaret Anglin and Eva Tanguay, she was a convent girl, receiving her early education in the convent of Notre Dame, in the Canadian metropolis. She inherited her genius from her father, Col. Ernest C. Stahl, long a newspaper man in Trenton, N. J., and like all of his profession, a man of remarkable intellect.

Miss Stahl was seventeen when she made her debut on the professional stage with a stock company in Philadelphia. She remained with the Quaker City organization several seasons, and also played with stock companies in Rochester and Columbus, and with the company of Daniel Bandmann in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Ten years ago she shone forth as a star in "Janice Meredith."

It was in "The Chorus Lady" that Miss Stahl gained an international reputation. Originally this was a vaudeville sketch, written by James Forbes, and Miss Stahl had to offer her services free to secure a tryout for the part. It was the big vaudeville hit of the season, but even after she had made good Miss Stahl received only $350 per week, out of which she had to pay her company and all expenses. The sketch was played by Miss Stahl in both America and England, and was then made over into a four-act play, which had its premiere in New York seven years ago. It had a successful run in New York and Chicago, and later on tour. Within three years Miss Stahl's income had risen to $2,500 a week, and she has since been offered $5,000 to revive the vaudeville sketch. Miss Stahl made over 4,000 appearances in "The Chorus Lady." This season Miss Stahl will continue in Charles Klein's play, "Maggie Pepper," and will tour the principal cities of the United States and Canada.

Sir Conyngham Greene, who was appointed British ambassador to Japan early this year, was born in Ireland fifty-nine years ago today. He entered the foreign office in 1877, and his first foreign post was as third secretary at Athens. In 1889 he became second secretary at The Hague, and held the same position at Brussels. Since then he has served as secretary of legation at Teheran, charge d'affaires at Pretoria, and minister to Switzerland, Roumania and Denmark. The Tokio post was his first ambassadorial appointment. He married Lady Lily Stopford, the youngest daughter of the fifth Earl of Courtown.

The Earl of Dundonald, who distinguished himself at Khartoum and in South Africa and who was later the commander of the Canadian militia, was born sixty-one years ago today. He is the twelfth of a line that has included many distinguished men. The ninth earl was an eminent scientist, and made many noteworthy chemical discoveries. The tenth earl, known during his brilliant naval career as Lord Cochrane, destroyed Napoleon's fleet in the Basque Roads in 1809, but made charges of incompetence against his superior which resulted in his dismissal from the service. Disgraced by the machinations of powerful enemies, Lord Cochrane went to South America and commanded the fleet which played so large a part in securing freedom for Chile and Peru. Upon returning to England he was hailed as a popular hero, and his remains now lie in Westminster Abbey.

CONDUCTOR MAY DIE OF INJURIES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Cleveland, Oct. 29.—Union T. Springfield, an Erie railroad passenger conductor, is in a hospital here in a dying condition as a result of a fall from his train today.

At Mahoning this morning, after the stop, Springfield attempted to board the last car thinking it an open platform car. It was a closed vestibule car, but as he had grabbed the handrail and the train was speeding up, it was necessary for him to cling to the rail. He tried to attract the attention of passengers, but failed, and after hanging to the side of the car for twenty-five miles, finally lost consciousness and let go.

He was not missed until the train reached Cleveland. Then an investigation resulted in the finding of his unconscious body.

WEATHER RECORDS FOR OCTOBER BROKEN IN WEST

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Kansas City, Oct. 29.—October temperature records of twenty-five years were broken in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma and equalled in Texas when the thermometer today showed readings ranging from 16 degrees above zero at Concordia and Dodge City, Kansas, to 64 at Dallas and Abilene, Texas. Coming on the heels of snow and sleet, storm driven by a biting wind, the drop in temperature caused great suffering to live stock.

Snow covered all of Kansas and parts of Oklahoma and Missouri. The heaviest fall recorded was 2 1/2 inches here.

Physical Education of Women Will Greatly Improve Our Race

By Dr. DUDLEY A. SARGENT of Harvard University

GIRLS as well as boys must be trained and developed physically as well as mentally and morally.

Thoroughly imbued with this idea, I have given a great deal of attention to the physical EDUCATION OF WOMEN and sincerely believe that in this line of work, carried on in the noblest and grandest way, we may look not only for the PHYSICAL IMPROVEMENT OF OUR PEOPLE, but for the solution of many of the social, moral and civic problems with which we are now perplexed.

IT IS NOT TRITE, IT IS MERELY TRUE, TO SAY THAT WOMEN WITH WELL TRAINED BODIES WILL TURN TO THE MOST NORMAL MENTAL ACTIVITIES.

All girls should have something in their sports or exercise which calls out the heroic attributes of their natures as well as the picturesque, something that makes them courageous and daring as well as skillful, strong and enduring.

It required trying experiences and strenuous efforts to develop the noble women of the past, and it will require EQUALLY HARDY EFFORTS to keep up the stock and develop the noble women of the future. These are the kind of women, however, that make fit companions for noble men and worthy mothers of sturdy children.

SOMETIMES THINK THAT MILITANT SUFFRAGISTS, INSTEAD OF BREAKING WINDOWS, THROWING BOMBS, DESTROYING PROPERTY AND ENDANGERING LIFE, COULD FIND IN VIGOROUS ATHLETICS A BETTER OUTLET FOR THEIR SOMEWHAT SPITEFUL EMOTIONS AND A BETTER NURSERY FOR THOSE HEROIC QUALITIES WHICH SO MANY OF THEM HAVE DISPLAYED.

HOSPITAL PATIENT LEAPS FROM WINDOW

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Cincinnati, Oct. 29.—While two physicians and two nurses at the city hospital today were at work on a patient, four beds away from the cot of Norman Joseph, 21, of Ludlow street, Joseph got up and went stealthily to a window on the second floor, raised it and leaped out, falling to the ground, a distance of 20 feet. The injuries and the shock caused his death a half hour later.

Joseph was admitted to the hospital on October 25. He was suffering from a very serious case of typhoid fever. His condition recently showed improvement.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Don'ts For Boys.
Don't neglect to use your toothbrush, particularly at bedtime. Good teeth help to keep you "fit."
Don't leave fat on your plate when it is served to you with your meat. Fat feeds the nerves. If you want to have well developed muscles you must have good nerves.
Don't think it doesn't matter whether your boots are sound or not. It matters a lot. Your health will soon suffer if you wear leaky boots.
Don't think that it is only a "fad" to be particular about washing your hands before meals. It is anything but a fad. Poison may be conveyed into the system on food that has been touched by unwashed hands. Painter's colic is often brought on because painters neglect to wash their hands before meals.
Don't put pencils belonging to other boys into your mouth. Throat ailments that give a lot of trouble are often set going because boys will do so.
Don't forget that very unpleasant skin ailments may be caused by the habit of flinging your caps about in the street and into all sorts of dirty and dusty places and then directly afterward putting them on.
Don't make a practice of reading by the light of a flickering fire or you may have to wear spectacles before your time.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity, when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

THE FORWARD-LOOKING WOMAN OR THE FIRESIDE WOMAN By Barbara Boyd

The Far-Seeing Vision of Plato

"Don't you wish Plato were living today?" asked the Forward-looking Woman musingly.

"I fear I should not have the honor of his acquaintance," replied the Fireside Woman. "Do you think he would golf, or play bridge, or do anything of that sort?"

"He might golf," observed the Forward-looking Woman. "But I am not sure about bridge. I have an idea he would rather philosophize."

"Imagine philosophizing in preference to enjoying yourself," scoffed the Fireside Woman. "I think we have enough of that kind of people to keep the world steady. I am afraid the addition of Plato would throw the balance the wrong way."

"He was something of a heavy weight," admitted the Forward-looking Woman. "But all the same, I wish he were living today. How magnificently he would come out for justice to women."

"How do you know?"

"Because as many thousand years ago as he lived,—and I forget now many it is,—he had this to say: 'The legislator ought to be whole and perfect, and not half a man only. He ought not to let the female sex live softly and waste money, and have no order of life, while he takes the utmost care of the male sex.' I think, considering the time he lived and the conditions then, that that is perfectly wonderful. Why, it is almost in advance of our times."

"It certainly is progressive," admitted the Fireside Woman.

"Evidently, Plato was one of those men who are able to discern truth. And truth is the same yesterday, today and forever. So, if he were here today, with the wider thought that has come through the ages, he would be magnificent. I think it was great of him to voice what he did, even in his time. It must have seemed to him rather useless. But when he could see the possibility of accomplishment, as he could now, he would have been aroused to a pitch of earnestness and enthusiasm that would have stirred the world. Just as he says, it is so idiotic for half the population to live softly and waste money and have no order of life."

"I don't think women live softly and waste money," objected the Fireside Woman. "I think, today, women work as hard as men."

"Some of them do, but it is from necessity, not from any right ordering of life. And plenty of them live softly and waste, and have no sense of responsibility at all. The whole order of woman's life today is a happen-so. It is what it is from force of circumstances and the drift of events. No power, having the authority, has ever taken it in hand, and systematized it, and put it on an orderly and just basis. And that is what should be done, for the good of humanity in general, and woman herself, in particular."

"But I'd hate to be systematized and organized and all that," protested the Fireside Woman. "I'd feel as if I were in a chain gang or something of that sort."

"That's all pure imagination. When you realized all the wonderful possibilities that would be open to woman, and the marvelous vistas that would lure and beckon, once she was given an equal footing in the affairs of the world, you would feel yourself a new being. Life would tingle in your veins as it never has before. You would find a joy in living such as the little round you trot in now can never give you. And I wish Plato were here to wake you and lead me others to this fact."

HALLOWE'EN—A PAGAN FESTIVAL

"Pulling the Kale" Will Be Crooked or Straight

The Legend of Halloween, and How and Why It Became the Night of Love Tests and Pumpkin Devils.

Old superstitions die hard and it will be a long time before the custom of celebrating Halloween goes out of fashion. Just why we celebrate Halloween—a pagan festival—a mooted question and the average answer is "Because our fathers did." During the last few years there has been a craze for paganism and any festival which requires people to dress in fancy costumes or go through curious ceremonies is sure to be popular, consequently Halloween is likely to be celebrated this year with no little ceremony.

Pictureque Druid Festival. Halloween is the evening of the day which precedes what is known as All Saints' Day in the Christian calendar, but its customs seem to have little in common with the Church festival, for Halloween was celebrated by the Druids. This was long before the Christian faith was adopted among the untutored people of ancient Britain. October thirty-first was the harvest season and the strange priests of the still stranger Druidic religion built bon-fires on the hill tops in Britain, Ireland and France in honor of the sun god. The Druids for leagues around gathered clad in snow white robes at the altar of stones on a hill. On the altar was an emblem of the luminary they worshiped together, with the sacred fire which had been carefully kept alive during the past year. The white robed figures grouped themselves around it and at a given signal quenched the fire. During the proceeding the crowd maintained absolute silence. Then a new fire was kindled on the hill and the assembled multitude raised a mighty shout and from every eminence for miles around other fires blazed into view. The same night the fire was put out in every cabin and farmhouse only to be rekindled with embers from the sacred fire of the priests which was believed to protect the homestead from peril so long as it remained burning. The people believed in fairies, goblins and witches and it was on this night that the spell of the witch was potent, and to guard against the mischievous pranks of the elves people followed closely every rule laid down by the Druid priests. Halloween kept by country folks in the early days of Christianity. As the Druidic faith faded before the advance of Christianity the pagan festival lost much of its pomp and former significance and assumed a different mode of celebration. So, on the night of October thirty-first the simple country folks of Ireland and Scotland added new superstitions to the day and all sorts of curious stories are told of the weird happenings of this night. As it falls on the eve of All Saints' Day many believed that the spirits were allowed to roam on this particular night and mingle with those of the living.

In Protestant countries the vigil of All Saints' Day is no longer a religious observance or at any rate it is not so in Scotland, England or Germany. With the Latin races it is merely a religious vigil and around its observance a few of the wild legends or superstitions that are so plentiful in Scandinavia, Scotland and Ireland. The nearest approach to solemnity and weirdness is the Venetian notte della morte or Night of All Dead, but the religious ceremonies attendant thereon take place not on the thirty-first of October but on the evening of All Souls' Day—that is, the second day following. In Scotland and Ireland Halloween has always been kept with great ceremony—in the former more in the east mid-country and lowlands than in the remote Highland districts. In other words, the festival is celebrated more by the Scots proper than among the pure Celts.

Legends of the Witches Orgies. In the sixth century Halloween was sometimes known as Witches' Night or the Devils' Sunday, and an old Scotch legend tells of the frightful orgies on this particular night when the Devil is supposed to have charge of things. He assembled all the himself on the back of a goat which had a black human countenance. Before going to these revels each witch announced herself with a preparation made from the fat of murdered unbaptized infants. Then she flew up the chimney and rode through the air on the backs of black cats. As she wished to keep her husband in ignorance of these revels she placed a stick in her bed which her husband mistook for his wife. At the feast they ate no bread nor salt, drank out of horses' skulls and danced back to back. The Devil supplied the music by playing on the skull of a hen with the tail of a black cat. The banquet hall was lighted with torches, the lights being taken from the fire which burned between the horns of the goat. At the close of the feast the goat itself was burned up and its ashes were divided among the witches to use in their incantations. The Scotch still believe that the black cats look tired and worn out on the day after Halloween.

The Origin of the Pumpkin Devil. Another legend tells how the Devil made his head round on Halloween and appeared about the houses and in the forests where he frightened everyone who came near him. However, if he saw his image he fled. This legend is said to have been the foundation for the curious custom of the children of today carrying "pumpkin devils" on Halloween night. "It takes a devil to catch a devil" was the old adage. The children of this age would not think the evening's sport complete unless one of these hideous affairs was somewhere about the house. By a very natural transition, fast and the Halloween fires built on the hills the rest of their lives. If the heart came to be looked upon as a charm against evil spirits and as late as the seventeenth century it was customary for the farmers to make the circuit of their fields with a lighted torch in hand to protect the land from harm during the year. A part of the ceremony too was the chanting or singing of a doggerel rhyme during the walk around the fields. It was claimed that on account of these supernatural beings roaming about on Halloween night secrets of the future might be learned from them by certain things being done which accounts for some of the rather curious customs of Halloween. Of course, nobody living in the present age has the slightest faith in these signs, yet on that night thousands of young people throughout the known world go through a number of silly antics in order to learn something of the looks and disposition of their future husbands or wives.

Pulling the Kale.

"Pulling the kale" is one of the oldest Halloween customs and one that is highly amusing and popular at the present time—no Halloween party being complete without this test. Of course, this is an impossible performance in the city as a kale patch is necessary, but it is one of the easiest things to do at a country party. The young woman who is to make the test is blindfolded and led to the edge of the kale patch. From this point she walks among the kale and finally stoops down and pulls up a plant by the root. If the stalk is straight her future husband will be tall and handsome, but if the kale is crooked her face will be an ugly man with a bent back. If plenty of dirt adheres to the roots of the vegetable the husband will be wealthy, but if the kale comes up clean of the soil poverty will camp at the marriage house. By a very natural transition, fast and Curious Love Tests. Nuts and apples play an important part in learning one's fate on this particular night. For instance, two hazel nuts are thrown on the hot coals by a maiden. She secretly gives the names of two of her lovers to the nuts. If one of the nuts bursts it is a sign that this lover will be unfaithful, but if it burns with a steady glow until it becomes ashes she is to understand that this lover is a faithful husband. Sometimes it happens, but not often, that both nuts will burn steadily and then the maiden is sore perplexed. Another practice is to place two nuts together on the coals named for a pair of lovers. If the nuts crack and jump it tells of unfaithfulness and separation while if the nuts burn together the youth and maiden for which the nuts are named will marry. In Ireland the throwing of hot lead into a pan of cold water is one of the popular tests. The lead in cooling, of course, takes curious forms. For instance, anything coming near the shape of a horse would be taken as a omen that the young woman will marry a dragoon or cavalierman. Should it take the form of a ship the husband will surely be a sailor or the form of a cow or a pig, it is understood to indicate that she will wed a farmer. It requires an Irish imagination to form this lead into these shapes.

Halloween is really a festival of superstition, yet withal a delightful one, for it brings young people together for innocent amusement as well as being a never ending joy to the children who play at making pumpkin devils.

Readers' Viewpoint

EFFICIENCY.

Have you ever thought what the word "efficient" really means? Have you ever thought what it might mean to you? to your business? or to the business of your competitor? or to your neighbors' business? You have often heard the remark "If I only had Mr. ———'s position I would be satisfied," or I could do thus and so. Now do you really mean what you say? I do not believe you do. The trouble is with you. You are not efficient. You lack the power of producing results. You lack efficiency.

Just imagine what would happen in this good old U. S. A. if every person was efficient, capable of producing results. What, in less than three months time we would capture the entire trade of the world.

What is it to be efficient? Webster defines the word as "causing effects; producing results; that makes the effect what it is; actively operative; not inactive, slack or incapable; characterized by energetic and useful activity."

Now are you efficient in your work? in your duty to your employer? in your business?

Your success in the line of your endeavor will depend upon your efficiency. In your ability to produce results. Why have we business failures? Because of inefficient business methods. If you are a clerk in a store, you will never own a business of your own unless you are efficient. It happens to know of some men who have always clerked in a store. Never got beyond the first position they accepted, in fact they have lived and you might say died a clerk in a store. I also happen to know a youngster who is just starting in life, just out of school, who is not going to be just office boy or clerk, all his life. How can I tell? Just watch how he does his work. Every thing done right up to the minute and generally if he has a few leisure moments he goes around to see if he can not find something else he can help you do. I say he is efficient. He is full of pent-up energy, useful activity.

Now in the morning looking for an hour and see how efficient you can make yourself, and after the first hour try it another and so on and when night comes you can go to dinner and enjoy it.

Next day try the same thing over and you will soon find enjoyment in your work, a satisfaction will come to you that you have never felt before, the satisfaction that you are producing results. If you do not then resign and let some person who is adapted to the work take your place, then seek for yourself a place in which you can become efficient.

What is the use of your being a brakeman all your life if you can make yourself an efficient engineer? Get to be efficient, and get it quickly.

RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK IN FEW MOMENTS

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

Stomach, Nerves and Thinner Restored by Grape-Nuts Food.

The number of persons whose ailments were such that no other food could be retained at all, is large and reports are on the increase.

"For 12 years I suffered from dyspepsia, finding no food that did not distress me," writes a Wis Lady. "I was reduced from 145 to 90 lbs. gradually growing weaker until I could leave my bed only a short while at a time, and became unable to speak aloud."

Three years ago I was attracted by an article on Grape-Nuts and decided to try it.

"My stomach was so weak I could not take cream, but I used Grape-Nuts with milk and line water. It helped me grow the first condition of my system in a manner most astonishing to my friends who had thought me beyond recovery."

"Soon I was able to take Grape-Nuts and cream for breakfast and lunch at night, with an egg and Grape-Nuts for dinner."

"I am now able to eat fruit, meat and nearly all vegetables for dinner, but fondly continue Grape-Nuts for breakfast and supper."

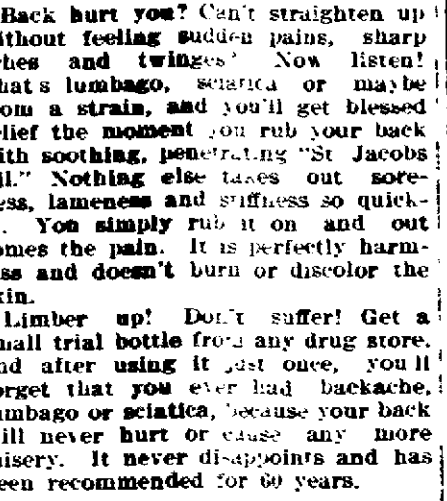

"At the time of beginning Grape-Nuts I could scarcely speak a sentence without changing words around or talking crooked in some way but I have become so strengthened that I no longer have that trouble."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," by Dr. J. C. Kellogg.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

EDGERLY SUES PENNSY FOR LOSS OF LEG

It's worth $25,000 for Charles P. Edgerly of near Appleton to lose his right leg, and he seeks that amount from the P. C. C. & St. L. Railway company, in a suit filed in common pleas court, late Tuesday.

In the petition filed by attorneys J. A. Horner and Flory & Flory, for Henrietta M. Edwards acting in behalf of Edgerly who is her ward, the railway company is charged with negligence in several particulars. Edgerly, who is eighteen years old was struck at the Fifth street crossing by a locomotive and a cut of car on the night of Oct. 2, about 5 o'clock, and amputation of his right leg was deemed advisable when he reached a local hospital.

On Tuesday Henrietta Edwards was appointed Edgerly's guardian. Shortly after the suit was filed.

The railway company is held negligent in that it failed to signal the crossing, in that its watchman, it is charged, failed to warn, and in that the company allowed cars to stand near the crossing obscuring the view in direction of the approaching train. It is also charged the train was passing the crossing at excessive speed.

Edgerly includes his $100 surgical and hospital bill in his damage claim.

In a statement which he issued, he stated that the Equity Association and its secretary, Charles S. Goring, were not aware that the decision was made to sue him. He also stated that he was not aware of the decision to sue him.

The result of the investigation and the decision of the supreme court is a vindication of the righteousness of thought that the right will and will always prevail.

Such is one, other than such as Mr. Goring, secretary of the Equity Association, and I believe in the case, and into court with Goring, hearing him made on the witness stand.
